AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of Alopecia.—Adv.

MISNAMED LEGISLATION

IT DEVELOPS that the so-called child labor law, for which President Wilson assumes all the credit, is on a par with the alleged eight hour law, which is not an eight hour law at all, but simply a wage bill to increase the pay of a small percentage of the railroad employees of the United States.

Practically the only real opposition to a national child labor law comes from the Southern states, as most of the states in the North already have laws prohibiting the employment of young children in factories, and a great deal of favorable publicity was secured by the president when he apparently forced the Southern democrats to vote in favor of what was presumed by the public to be a real child labor law.

"I sign this bill with real emotion, because I know what it means to the health and vigor of the country and to the happiness of those whom it affects. It is with genuine pride that I play my part in completing this legislation. I congratulate the country and felicitate myself."

This was the statement of President Wilson, as, seated before the movie camera, he signed the child labor bill. The stage had been carefully arranged for the grand finale, with motion pictures and all, so as to secure the greatest amount of publicity possible. And now—the bill he signed proves to be a fraud and a fake. It does not prohibit the employment of child labor in factories, as the public was led to believe. It simply forbids the shipment out of the state of the product of a cannery, mill, factory, etc., "in which, within thirty days prior to the removal of such product" from the cannery, mill, factory, etc., children have been employed or permitted to work.

Therefore, all the cannery, mill operator or manufacturer need do is to hold his product of child labor for thirty days, and he can ship it where he pleases. There is nothing in the law to prevent him doing so.

Thus the Southern democrats were able to help the president play politics and at the same time protect their influential bosses in their practice of reaping profits from the labor of children.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY OCTOBER 9

STATE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER ASKS THAT PEOPLE OF THE STATE OBSERVE DAY FOR PREVENTION OF FIRES

The following appeal for observation of fire prevention day has been received from Harvey Wells, state insurance commissioner:

The anniversary of the Chicago conflagration is October 9th and nearly every state in the Union will observe this as "Fire Prevention Day." The insurance department of Oregon wishes to urge the observance of this day and earnestly requests citizens of the state to consider the need of fire prevention.

Fire prevention means good house-keeping; the cleaning out of attics, store rooms, closets and basements; the proper disposal of rubbish; repairing defective chimneys; repairing gas fixtures and electric light cords; making heating plants and stoves safe; and proper storage of gasoline. Try fire prevention once and you will find it is to your interest. I am sure the cleaning up of places will mean sanitation as well as fire prevention.

And I appeal to every school district to hold appropriate exercises and fire drills. If any schools are interested probably this department can offer suggestions for the school program.

I trust that the insurance agents will co-operate with the fire departments and officers of the different municipalities in order that the many towns in this state may properly observe this day.

Says Records of Income Tax Should Be Published

By PAUL O. HUSTING
United States Senator from Wisconsin
(Written for United Press)

In my judgment, no valid argument has ever yet been advanced why income tax records should not be published or at least open to the public for inspection. If certain individuals evade or escape, in whole or in part, their proper tax, just to that extent the amount so evaded has to be made good by those who make full and honest returns of their property. Every taxpayer has a right to know what every other taxpayer pays.

Men will dodge taxes. I do not think this due so much to inherent dishonesty as to inefficient administration of the tax laws. I believe most men are willing to pay their taxes if assured that their fellow citizens pay theirs. Because of imperfect, loose and frequently dishonest assessment methods, it is not unusual for men to engage in a practice acquiesced in, if not sanctioned, by the authorities, to dodge their taxes.

Often it is considered clever for men to get the best of their neighbors in concealing property. Men boast about it, and a sort of rivalry has sprung up between them on the point. They do not stop to think that they are cheating their fellow citizens who do pay their just taxes. They do not stop to think that they are "welchers" on "spongers" on society. Some of these men who ordinarily would spurn the idea of sponging on their fellows or cheating their partners.

Some one has estimated that this government loses annually $300,000,000 by income tax dodging. This may be a very high estimate. I do not know. I do know that millions of dollars of properly payable taxes under the income tax law are lost to the United States each year because of false returns. A corps of inspectors uncovering these tax evasions have added millions to the tax receipts.

The ban of secrecy should be removed, and all these records exposed to the light of day. Men will not evade their taxes if they fear detection. The loudest protest against publicity naturally comes from those liable to pay the heaviest tax. Not daring to attack the income tax principle, they loudly inveigh against intrusion into their private affairs. When such income constitutes the basis upon which their just tax is computed, then their tax return becomes a public document.

If it should be shown that the injury to private business by reason of publicity incidental to the assessment and collection of the income tax is out of all proportion to the benefits derived from that sort of taxation, the tax should be abolished, but so long as it is in force all steps necessary to the proper administration of that income tax law should be taken, even though in exceptional cases it may cause trouble or inconvenience. Publicity is the most efficient hand-maiden of such administration.
